

Dalejske Vista – Nature’s Oasis in Prague

Overlooking the Prokopské and Dalejské Valleys natural park, this community of apartments has been designed to inspire in its residents a true feeling of freedom. Balancing the needs of the city-dweller with the desires of the nature-lover, this project of three five-storey residence buildings offers a high standard of comfort - with every detail having been taken into consideration.

Of the 152 residences, each of the ground floor apartments overlooks its own garden, whilst each apartment on the levels above opens on to a balcony. To keep the landscape around the community green and relaxing, and to blend the project with the beauty of the park beyond, car parking is located underground. It can also be reached conveniently from inside the buildings, offering peace of mind regarding security.

Prokopské and Dalejské Valleys natural park is one of Prague’s most important nature reserves, with an array of valuable geological features and rare plant species. While this ecological jewel is so close, the centre of Prague is easily reached. A bus stop is situated conveniently nearby, while a ten minute walk takes one to the metro stations Luka and Luziny.

More distant travel is also well-catered for: main highways are easily accessible from the community, making the airport a short ride away. Local centers such as Zlicin offer a selection of supermarkets and stores, and the surrounding area is also well-equipped with facilities such as schools and sports centers. With all necessities so easily provided for, life really can be just a walk in the park... ■
